Divestiture of Reims Aviation Industries and bankruptcy of GECI Aviation

Following the total divestiture of aircraft maintenance, cabin management, integration and installation systems of Reims Aviation Industries to the Reims area company, ASI Innovation, the Commercial Court of Reims converted the receivership of Reims Aviation Industries into liquidation.

With the disappearance of his last aeronautic participation, GECI Aviation saw its receivership converted into liquidation on April 17, 2014.

Liquidation of GECI Aviation, a GECI International subsidiary, has the effect to strike the GECI Aviation market value on NYSE Alternext - Euronext Paris.

In that context with the cessation of aviation activities, GECI International group is now in a three-pronged approach:

- Consolidation of its services activities in India and South-Africa,
- Business development on these areas,
- Elaboration of a new strategy for the company development.
